JOURNALISTS HOLD YEARLY DINNER IN THE "TROCADERO"

Sizzler Gater Edition and Entertainment Features News Affair Monday

Journalism festivities for the semester will be concluded on Monday night when the journalists gather at the Trocadero Restaurant, 609 Montgomery street, for the traditional semi-annual publications dinner. At this time the new editors and business managers of the Golden Gater and Franciscan will be announced by Beverly Lyon of "Maybe I'm Lyon" fame, newly elected student director of publications, who will serve as mistress of ceremonies.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the appearance of "The Sizzler," the razz edition which appears at each journalism dinner. SANDIFUR NEXT CONDUCTOR FOR MUSIC FESTIVAL

Dates for Other Programs Set for End of April; All Musical Groups to Participate

Due to unforseen complications arising in connection with time and place, the A Capella Choir concert will be presented tomorrow evening. It was originally scheduled for last night. The program, however, will be the same as stated in last week's Golden Gater.

Part of Festival

This second unit of the Spring Music Festival, sponsored by the Music Federation of State, will give its concert in conjunction with the String Quartet. Mr. Roy E. Freeburg will conduct the choir, while Mr. William Zech is sponsoring the string group.

Due to the popular demand for them, there are only a few invitations to the affair left. These may be applied for through officers of the Music Federation and various members of the music department faculty. Anyone desiring to attend the performance tomorrow evening is advised to see toward his invitation at once, lest there be none left.

Band Concert Coming

Next Tuesday evening, April 16, the State band, under the direction of Mr. Donald Sandifur, will present another concert of the festival series. Although Mr. Sandifur has been with the State music faculty for less than a year, it is said that he has done some outstanding work with the band.

Bach Compositions to Be Played

The band program will open with organ works of J. S. Bach, including two chorales and organ prelude and fugue in E minor.

Organ works transcribe particularly well for band, for in the wind instruments is found a happy parallel to the majestic sonorities of the organ.

Trombone Quartet Featured

The feature of the concert will be "Drai Equale," three short pieces for four trombones composed in 1812 by Beethoven and later performed at his funeral. The quartets will be played by Alex Terando, Bob Arnold, Thomas Ingram and Donald Sandifur.

Following will be a waltz, "Tales from the Vienna Woods," by Johann Strauss, the waltz king. This music is penetrated by the Viennese gaiety and spirit.

"Carmen" Music Programmed

Edward Grieg's stirring Triumphal March from his music inspired by the adventurous Norse crusader "Sigurd Jorsalfar" will bring the first half of the evening to a close.

After the intermission will follow music from the ever popular opera, "Carmen" by Bizet.

Variety Offered

A bit of delicate impressionism will be introduced by Debussy's "Girl with the Flaxen Hair," an extract from his first book of preludes for the piano.

Lending variety and lightness, the concluding composition will be music from Romberg's tuneful operetta, hit of a few seasons ago, "The Desert Song ."

Anti-War Program Planned for Friday

For the purpose of offering to the students an enlightened opinion on the question "The Modern Student in Relation to War," Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of the college, has called a student body rally for Friday, April 12, at 11 o'clock in the women's gymnasium to present the ideas of several faculty and student speakers on this subject.

Dr. Roberts has dismissed all classes at this hour on Friday to give the students every opportunity to learn of the instigators and profiteers of war.

Because of previous engagements, Dr. Roberts regrets that he is unable to preside over the meeting, but he will, however, send a letter of personal approval.

Dean DuFour, vice-president and dean of the college, has been asked to officiate at the symposium and several faculty members have consented to speak. Dr. Alfred G. Fisk, philosophy instructor, will give his views and offer some constructive criticism on the question. Dr. Roy C. Cave, social science instructor, will speak on "The Economics of Internationalism" and the possibility of using it to clear up our present world problems.

Conductor

Mr. Sandifur, band leader, presents concert Tuesday.

Casebolt Is Speaker For Conference

Miss Jessie Casebolt, instructor in dramatics at State, has received an invitation to speak before the assembled primary, grade and high school teachers at Oregon State Teachers College, April 23, according to word received recently.

Miss Casebolt will speak at a conference which is held every year in that state to allow teachers to compare ideas and get acquainted with each other. She will speak on the ways and means by which dramatics are connected with and help the instruction of such subjects as art, literature, music, social science, and creative arts.

"We have done considerable work along this line here at State," Miss Casebolt said during an interview. "The year before last we worked on a California pageant. Eight rooms participated in the project, each one doing a portion of the job. Every room did stage settings, designed costumes, and organized action suitable to the theme of the project. They were assisted by instructors in dramatics and art supervisors. Help was also given by the P. E. department on dance numbers and by the children in other parts.

"About eight or nine plays were presented on the Frederic Burk stage by the children. Poise, expressive power, and good diction are the direct results of this training," Miss Casebolt added.

Anderson Hall to Lodge Staff During Registration

The Registrar's Office will reserve the week of April 24-30 for the handling of all resident students who have problems concerning their summer session programs.

Blank program cards, which will be found on the table in the outer office are to be filled out carefully in ink and filed by the student in the office of the registrar. This is all that will be necessary for summer session pre-registration.

In making out his program for this session the student should observe the following regulations:

1. For the six week session no student may be enrolled for more than six units of academic credit plus one unit of activity.

2. For either three week session no student may enroll for more than three units of academic credit plus one-half unit of activity.

On April 30, all regular students may file their programs for summer session.

For the first two days of the session the offices of the dean of summer session, the registrar's staff, and the financial secretary will be established on the second floor of Anderson Hall. They will be assisted by the registration committee headed by Alfred Shepherd, general chairman, and Ismay Tobin, information; Marion Irwin, programs; Rose Marie Haas, files, and Ruth Smith, publicity.

Graduates Attention!

Students applying for graduation at the close of the summer session should observe the following procedure:

1. File applications now and check with the Registrar's Office for courses yet to be completed.

2. All candidates should preregister on April 30.

All Plans Completed For Next Inaugural Festival

People Chosen Wednesday Will Be Inaugurated on April 12; Ceremony to Be Impressive

Final plans are being completed for the Grand Inaugural Ball which will be held on April 12. This novel method of inaugurating the new student officers instituted this year will become an annual affair of this college.

The program which appeared in the last issue of the Golden Gater will be carried out as it was announced with the exception of the dance number by Miss Aubrey Stewart.

Sponsors Selected

At the committee meeting held on April 4, sponsors selected for the ball were Dr. Barney, Mr. and Mrs. Harden, Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, Dean and Mrs. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Nee, Dr. and Mrs. Kinnaird, Mrs. MacCauley, Dr. and Mrs. Knuth. The guests of honor will be Dr. and Mrs. Roberts, Dean Mary Ward and Dean DuFour.

State's voting quoroum gave Ed Morgan a commanding lead early in the contest last Wednesday to win from his two rivals, Art Hull and Jerry Kenney, for president of the Student Body. Morgan's count was 502. Hull totalled 185 and Kenney 118.

Battle Hard

Virginia Conlan and Betty McDonald fought a hard battle for vice-president, the former finally winning out 420 votes to 368. Grace Whitby, without opposition, amassed a total of 593 for the position of secretary.

The race for treasurer was fiercely contested and it became necessary to hold a second election for this office and that of athletic manager when late returns showed no candidate with a clear majority. In the second contest Ed Cockrum defeated his close rival, Johnny Goodwin by a 344 to 281 count.

The run off between Gene Dumesnil and Harvey Williams for athletic manager was equally close, Dumesnil finally getting the upper hand, 350 to 267.

Links Leader

Bob Links is State's new yell leader as results returned him a favorite over Gus Revel by a 35 vote margin. Bev Lyon won over her opponent, Clarice Dechent, for the position of student director of publications. On the board of publications Cy Atkinson polled a record total of 652 votes to lead by a wide margin the other five candidates elected with him. The successful nominees are Evelyn Harris, Aubrey McDermott, Howard Miguel, Ruth Walker and Vernon Whitney. Official totals follow:

Program For Alumni Week All Arranged

Marking the finish of the fourth week of intensive preparation comes the statement that almost all of the preliminary work for the big alumni homecoming is complete.

Programs for each day of the alumni's visit here have been arranged for. "Clubs and other State organizations are co-operating with each other, and all are showing a splendid spirit in this attempt to make the alumni homecoming the biggest thing State has ever done," says the chairman of this mammoth event, Bill Connolly.

The affair is scheduled to begin on Friday, April 26, when a convening of the old grads will be held in Frederic Burk auditorium, at 4 o'clock. At this time, the alumni will be given a chance to renew old acquaintances and reminisce over the spectacular days of their turbulent youth.

Every effort is being made to make this event one which will be remembered a long time, both by the alumni and the present students.

The homecoming will be ably climaxed by the senior ball, which is being held on the evening of Saturday, April 27. All of the alumni will be urged to attend and help welcome the new graduates to their ranks of alumni.

Club to Hear Speaker

Miss Helen Heffernan, the chief of the elementary division of education and rural schools of California, will be the guest of the Rural Life Club on April 11, when she will speak to the members of the club and the Education 186 class. The student body is invited to attend this meeting.

The Rural Life Club held a dinner and meeting last Thursday, March 22, in the Activities Room.

Plans were made for starting an alumni organization of Rural Life members in the teaching fields. This would give graduates an opportunity to keep in touch with the organization through exchange of letters. In this way it is expected that the aim of the club, to further the interests of rural life, could be carried out.

Big Smoker Tonight By Men's Club

Unusual Entertainment Arranged by Post; Small Admission Fee Charged

By RUDY RUDD

Putting on entertainment that could not be bought by any vaudeville circuit, the Men's First Annual Smoker goes on the boards tonight in Frederic Burk auditorium at 7 p. m.

Headlining the classic program is the famous Harden-Farmer routine. This combination is the same that startled two continents (Angel and Alcatraz). The whole act is unknown to San Francisco as yet, but it won't be long now.

Chairman Walberto Valadez has lined up a varied attack on the amusement front. Boxing, wrestling, skits, native dancers and instrumentalists, fencing matches, an opera, burlesque dancing, and Nick Biedov's German band, are included in the heavy gun class.

Harry Post, college cut-up, has been stuck with the job of master of ceremonies. No one knows why he was chosen. Our guess is that he dramatized the Spirit of Basketball so well last season that maybe he is the man of the hour. Oh well.

In the wrestling part of the show, Valadez has gone to great expense (of imagination) to match the outstanding challengers of the heavyweight crown. Ray Allee, the self-styled Terrible Turk, the pride of all the antelopes, will tangle with Cyril Atkinson, the man-mountain of India. Is this going to be good! Everett Parrish will referee.

Eats will be served after the festivities. Chairman Valadez says tamales, cheese and ham sandwiches, pie, and coffee are the constituents of the menu. Most important, there will be plenty for the crowd, for no expenses are being spared to get the most and the best.

Because of a sparsity of gold in the coffers of the Men's Association, the charge of ten cents per head is necessary to put on the evening. This should be a big obstacle to filling the auditorium. Not many men of State or their friends and dads, who are also invited, will be fooled. Imagine, charging ten cents for two hours entertainment and a big feed afterwards. Get tickets in the main hall, or pay at the door.

Kenney Elected Newman Head at First Meeting Of Newly Formed Club

Officers have been elected and a date for the next meeting has been set by the newly formed Newman Club on the campus. A constitution similar to the one employed by the club at U. C. has been formulated. The first Monday after the Easter holidays is the date for the next meeting according to James Kilkenny, recording secretary.

Father McDonald has been specially appointed by Archbishop Mitty to serve as chaplain.

Newman clubs are found on nearly every major college campus in the country, according to a statement by Kilkenny. They were originally organized for Catholic men and women attending college.

Newly elected officers are: President, Jerome Kenny; vice-president, Richard Coughlin; treasurer, Jack Murphy; corresponding secretary, James Kilkenny; recording secretary, Mike Driscoll; sergeant- at-arms, Leo Halligan.

Jack Murphy is chairman of the membership committee and Lou Simi heads the social committee.

Officers For Next Term Nominated at Meeting in Little Theater

By WILL SMITH

High Sophs will nominate officers for the following year at a Soph Day celebration and meeting to be held Thursday from 11 to 1 o'clock in the Little Theater of Annex B. Heavy emphasis will be placed on the coming Soph Dinner Dance, April 13th.

Officers to be nominated will include president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and the A. W. S. representative.

Guest speakers will be Mrs. Cowell, Dr. Treutlein and Alan Howard. Mrs. Cowell will show some fine exhibits from the Far East, and Dr. Treutlein is to outline plans for the coming year.

A strong list of entertainers has been lined up for the affair. Alan Howard will give an interpretation of "Dangerous Dan McGrew." Helen Costello will contribute some tap dance numbers and Howard Demeke will sing. Dawn Wilson has consented to give some lively yodel tunes and Joe Rosen is to play some piano selections. Deckers Stooges have arranged a short skit.

There will be refreshments after the entertainment.

Soph Dinner Dance

A large number of bids have been reserved for places at the Soph Dinner Dance, according to word from Vincent Haderle, in charge of the affair. "It would be advisable to make reservations as early as possible in order to avoid disappointment," Haderle said Monday. "An unusually heavy demand for bids has cut deeply into the reserve available."

It was emphasized by the committee that corsages were taboo, as well as liquor. A fine will be charged for violations of the liquor regulation.

Entertainment from both school ranks and sources outside has been provided in addition to the regular floor show at Edgewater, which all will be able to attend in case they desire. Bill Graziani will contribute "Casey at the Bat."

Programs have been designed by Gabriel Lonergan. They will serve as souvenirs for the final social event of the present Soph season. Bids for class members are $1.55 and $2.25 and will be on sale every day this week from 10 to 3.

April 13th is the date. It is a semi-formal affair, and the festivities will begin at 7:30, when dinner will be served.

Gabriel Lonergan, Bob Links, Marie Brista, Genevieve Murphy, Dolores Waters, Jean McGuffick, and Mary Louise Benson assisted Haderle on the committee.

Scholarship Movement to Be Launched

Interested faculty and students of State are initiating a movement to raise funds for one or more scholarships for the Western Summer School for Workers to be held on the University of California campus from July 8 to August 3.

The summer school is one of several conducted throughout the United States and is the only one west of the University of Wisconsin. Industrial workers, agricultural workers, white collar workers, domestic workers and college students convene for a month of study under recognized teachers of workers' education. They study the social and economic problems of present day society and an effort is made to enabel students to train themselves in clear thinking. Classes offered include labor economics, history of the American labor movement, literature, contemporary European social movements, and English composition with practical application in the publishing of a weekly newspaper and a class book at the close of the four week period.

Speaking of the move to send representatives of San Francisco State Teachers College to the school, President Alexander C. Roberts said:

"I am in hearty agreement with the plan to have the college represented at the Western Summer School for Workers. The movement is a worthy one, has had a remarkably successful history in the East and will doubtless become a permanent institution in the West."

Other faculty members interested in the raising of funds for this school are Dr. Elene Michell, Mrs. Anna V. Dorris, Dr. Elias T. Arnesen, Dr. P. F. Valentine, and Mrs. Bertha Monroe.

Lucy Wilcox Adams of the State Department of Education is director of the school, which is managed by a joint committee representing the California Association for Adult Education, the State Department of Education, the Workers Education Bureau of the University of California, and the California State Federation of Labor.

Mrs. Alexander Meiklejohn heads the local committee which raises funds to send workers. Last year ten students were sent from the bay region. College students are admitted to the school providing they raise one extra scholarship for an industrial worker. The cost of the scholarship is forty dollars, which includes room and board for one month. Last year the University of California, Mills College, Stanford, University of California at Los Angeles, University of Southern California, University of Washington, Scripps and Occidental Colleges all raised scholarships.

A.M.S. Holds Election For Next Semester

The following candidates are presented to the Associated Men Students for the following offices:

President: Al Furst, James Hamrock, Robert Marcus.

Vice-president: Michael Driscoll, Jack Murphy.

Three representatives will also be chosen. Men are asked to select three from the following list:

Dear "Constant Reader":

I'm glad you like the column. However, you're trying to put two and two together and I'm sorry to say it doesn't come out four, in the case of the first two parties you mentioned. Perhaps you will recall that the person concerned did not go on a certain trip to Stockton? As far as the second two parties go, the Gater business manager and his "secret passion" are really not so secret—perhaps that's his business.

We don't want to limit our news to concern journalism students only. That's why—as you claim—"they get by with so little publicity." You dared me to print your letter, but please remember—only "fools rush in where wise men fear to tread."

However, I'd like to hear from you again—perhaps next time I can print your letter verbatim. How's about I triple dare you to sign your name?

Sincerely,

Chico Debate Team Bows To A Formidable Gater Squad For First Time

State Wins From Chico Debate Club

Coach King Pleased With Team's Showing; First Time State Beats Chico

Chico State's little theater was the scene of a debate between State and Chico last Friday night, Richard Davis and Irwin Bischoff represented State and Robert Waste and Dean Chamberlin represented Chico.

Coach Kenneth King, who accompanied the State debaters, expressed his satisfaction with the outcome of the debate.

The debate with Chico State was the concluding event of a series of exhibition debates presented by the San Francisco team as they toured Northern California. Schools included in the team's itinerary were Santa Rosa high school, Red Bluff union high school, and Red Bluff elementary school.

A novel feature was tried at at the Red Bluff exhibition. A student was asked to come up from the audience and draw a card from a hat to determine which side of the question each of the State teams were to take. "This was done," Coach King explained, "to show how at State we train our debaters to speak extemporaneously and are not bound by notes to any particular side."

Not content with having secured for State College the Western States College Debate Tournament in the fall, Delta Sigma debating society today announced plans for a high school debate tournament to be held on this campus in May.

High Schools Debate

Officially titled as the "Invitational High School Forensic Tournament of Northern and Central California," the huge contest will be held on May 17 and 18. Erwin Bischoff has been named chairman of the event, according to Kenneth M. King, varsity debate coach.

"Over 40 high schools are being invited to the affair," Bischoff said, "and early indications are that the attendance will be very large." Many valuable prizes and trophies to schools and contestants will be awarded to the winners.

Tax Question

The question for debate at the tournament will be: "Resolved, That the California Sales Tax Should Be Discontinued." Two-man teams from each school will debate both sides of the question for four separate rounds, and then eliminations will take place.

In conjunction with the debate tournament, an oratorical contest will also be held. No limitation has been set on the choice of subject, but it must be less than 1000 words. "This will give high school students a splendid chance to display their oratorical ability," King declared.

"The purpose of the tournament," Chairman Bischoff said, "is to stimulate interest in debating, and to advance that art in our California high schools. "Schools as far north as Redding and as far south as Monterey are expected to enter the competition.

Committee Chosen

A special committee of Delta Sigma is now touring the state building up interest in the tournament. Exhibition debates are being presented at various high schools in Northern California. Debates have been presented at Sonoma, Santa Rosa, Redding, Red Bluff, Cotati, Kenwood, and other high schools. Members of the exhibition team are Richard Davis, Robert Van Houte and Erwin Bischoff.

Last Friday night the team, under an arrangement with Chico State College to assist them in a revival of debating at that institution, met a team from that school on the question: "Resolved, That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions."

Delta Phi Upsilon Holds Installation

Monday evening, April 8, marked the traditional initiation of pledges into Delta Phi Upsilon at the home of Miss Lynette Maas.

Margaret Burke, Edith White, Ruth Backerud and Dorothy Buickerood were the pledges. The ceremony was conducted by Marion Woolley, president; Barbara Heim, vice-president; Clarice Dechent, corresponding secretary; Louise Rice, recording secretary; Paula Brendel, treasurer, and Amatoy Callis, marshal. After the ceremony the members went to the Plaza Hotel for dinner.

Delta Phi Upsilon is the national honorary fraternity of early childhood education, and Epsilon is the local chapter. State's chapter owns and operates a thrift shop at 631 Haight street which sells clothing at low prices to the needy in the neighborhood. They accept all donations, repair them and sell them at a minimum price. Proceeds from the sales go to buying needs for less fortunate school children. The shop recently celebrated its first anniversary.

Spanish Club Finishes Term With Election

With elections to take place at the last meeting of the club to be held in two weeks, Los Lazarillos, the Spanish club of the College, has almost completed its most active semester.

The members of the club enjoyed a picnic on April 4, at Sigmund Stern Recreation Grove. The most interesting feature of the afternoon was a treasure hunt in which everyone participated. After climbing seemingly miles of steps and wandering over a greater part of the grove (only 24 acres), the prize was finally found right back at the starting point by Louis Delhotel.

After the treasure hunt, which everyone considered rather a workout, a picnic lunch was served, arrangements having been made by the refreshment committee: Virginia Thole, Mary Bern, and Virginia Pugh.

Games and other forms of entertainment occupied the remainder of the afternoon, and everyone declared the day the most successful social activity of the term.

Those who enjoyed the afternoon were Virginia Pugh, Virginia Thole, Lorraine Eddy, Mary Bern, Dorothy Lourdeaux, Betty Williamson, Bill Grier, Richard Stevens, Stuart Peek, and Louis Delhotel.

All members are asked to attend the last meeting, as elections will take place at that time and arrangements will be made for the dinner which closes the social program for the term.

U.C. Round Table Has Casebolt As Discussion Leader

To act as chairman at a round table discussion to be held by the high school and college teachers of the state, April 12, was the distinction given Miss Jessie Casebolt this week. The discussion is to be held at the University of California.

The subject of Miss Casebolt's address is "Stimulating Creative Drama," which will be delivered during the course of the meeting.

The Cue, a national publication of the Theta Alpha Phi, a national honorary dramatic fraternity, recently contained an extensive article dealing with the teaching of English 21 at State. The course was described in detail, showing the advanced methods of dramatic teaching being used in the Dramatic department of the college. The fact that the entire plan was built around the creative idea was well brought out. The magazine states that true appreciation of the fundamentals underlying the art of stage department and play construction is gradually developed.

Written scenarios are used as the basis for finished extemporaneous plays which mark the completion of the course. Beginnings are made with pantomime. According to heads of the department, this course is due for extensive development because it adds so much to a teacher's personal equipment.

Chess Club Will Meet To Elect New Officers: To Play Balboa on Fri.

An important meeting of the Chess Club will be held Thursday, April 11, at 11 o'clock in Annex A10. The purpose of the meeting is to elect officers for the coming year. When the club was first organized, a chairman pro-tem was elected, that office being held by Henry Guilmette. Now, however, that the club is well started officers will be elected regularly.

As Balboa High School's team is playing Hayward High for the Northern California championship on Friday, State's match with them has been postponed. It will probably be played at a later date.

Because of the newness of the club, only a few matches have been scheduled, but next semester the Chess Club will meet many of the bay area's leading teams.

Sphinx To Hear Talks By Faculty

Drs. Treutlein, Roy Cave Discuss Current Topics Before Society

Sphinx Society members will learn the "Use of History and Geography" today when Dr. T. E. Treutlein, State's newest social science professor, speaks to them on that subject.

The group, under the leadership of Art Rosene, will gather to hear the doctor's address at 4 o'clock in Room 109. "We are trying to cover as many and as different subjects as possible during the semester," Rosene said, "and Dr. Treutlein's talk will deal with two of the most important of the social sciences—history and geography."

Huey Long and his policies were discussed by the group at their last meeting. Dr. Roy Cave led the discussion with a talk on Long's "Share the Wealth" plan. He outlined Long's program and pointed out certain difficulties that would be encountered if it were put into effect.

"Huey has no detailed political program," Cave declared, "but he knows his politics, and he is undoubtedly a great orator—better even than President Roosevelt."

In a humorous diversion, the doctor described Long's radio tactics to secure an audience. "At the beginning of his program," he said, Long will ask all his listeners to call up their friends and tell them to listen in too. While they are doing this, he just 'passes' away. In about five minutes, however, when his audience has had time to gather, he begins his serious discussion.

Dr. Cave raised several questions in regard to the Louisiana senator's "share-our-wealth" plan. "How much wealth can be divided," the doctor asked, "when much of it consists of land, resources, and the like? Long has no intention of destroying private property, and I do not believe his plan would work without the destruction of that type of property."

That Long, if he ever got into power, would become a virtual dictator, was the doctor's concluding assertion. "If Long thought a certain action was morally right, he would not let a mere law stop him. He knows his Bible and believes it."

Plans for the annual Sphinx dinner were also made by the group. It is the custom of the society to hold an annual dinner at which prominent speakers are presented, according to Rosene. A committee, under the advisorship of Dr. Elias T. Arnesen, is working on the dinner plans and expects to announce the place and date of the affair in the near future.

Civic Center Chapter No. 3 of the California State Employees' Association wishes to publicly announce their thanks and appreciation to the Langendorf Baking Company and the I. X. L. Company who furnished the food served at the organization's meeting Monday evening, April 1 in the Co-op.

The enchiladas and tamales which were not used on Monday evening were turned over free of charge to the student body by Mr. Percy Marples, head of the Co-op. The bread from the dinner was also given to Mr. Marples free of charge and this was used for some of the sandwiches the students were able to buy in the Co-op.

The legend arose around an episode in one of Beethoven's weather-defying walks around the country at Baum. Mr. Robbins will also play Debussy's beautiful rhapsody upon an old French legend which tells of an engulfed cathedral that rises from the sea during a certain season, stays for a few minutes, during which can be heard the chanting of priests, then returns again into the sea, "Le Cathedral Engloutie."

Installation Held April 3

At the last meeting of the Parent-Faculty Club, the new officers for next year were installed. The meeting was held Wednesday, April 3, in the Activities Room of the college. Mrs. William J. Lallaine, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Lagrave, financial secretary; Mrs. C. N. Olson, treasurer; Mrs. N. M. Hoye, auditor, and Mrs. Esther Selmer, historian.

About fifty members enjoyed a fine musical program presented by Margaret Gleason, singing several selections, accompanied by Carlton Peters; a trombone solo by Alex Terando, accompanied by Alvin Kusser, and a short one-act skit, an excerpt from "Elizabeth the Queen" given by Beverly Lyon and Alfred Shepherd.

On April 24, the Parent-Faculty Club is sponsoring a play, "Lombardi, Ltd.," to be given by the advanced dramatics class. The money is to be used in the club treasury. Already over eighty tickets have been spoken for, and the club hopes for a sell-out. The play will be presented in Frederic Burk auditorium. Tickets will be 25 cents and will be available through the members of the Parent-Faculty Club, and at the door the night of the performance.

On May 1, the last meeting of the club will be held for the year. This meeting, following a custom begun last semester, is in honor of the mothers of the graduating seniors. The seniors as well as their mothers will be invited to be guests of the club at that meeting.

Fred Wahl Produces Play Of Edwin Booth Version; State Students Participate

Victor Hugo's Drama, "Ruy Blas," to Be Given at Palace of Legion of Honor May 4; Louis Ray, Virginia Thomson Are State Players in Cast

Producer

Fred Wahl, State graduate, who is producing "Ruy Blas."

Fred Wahl, State graduate and a past president of College Theater, is bringing out his own company again this season. The Richmond Traveling Players, in a revival of Victor Hugo's immortal drama, "Ruy Blas," to be given in the Little Theater of the Palace of the Legion of Honor Saturday evening, May 4. The script has been adopted by the director from the popular Edwin Booth version and put in present-day language to allow more freedom of expression.

Ray Plays Booth

Under Wahl's direction is a cast of well-known State players. The title role, first introduced to American audiences by Edwin Booth, is being played by Louis Ray. Marie de Neuberg, "Queen" of Spain, a role that held a leading place in the repertoire of the late Sarah Bernhardt, is being interpreted by Virginia Thomson, who created the role of Lady Madeline, last December, in Wahl's "The Fall of the House of Usher."

Wahl Villain

Howard Brubeck is seen as the crafty old Count of Alba, the chief cog in the political machine which seeks to gain control of the Spanish throne. Ruth Desmond appears as the Puritanical Duchess of Albuquerque. Fred Wahl again turns to the type of role in which he first appeared on the boards of College Theater over four years. In "Ruy Blas" he is appearing as Don Salluste, one of the most famous villain roles in the world of the romantic drama. Frances Hathway, formerly with the English Ballade Opera Company, is to be heard in solo.

Love Story

The story of the play deals with the love of the Queen for the lackey, Ruy Blas—a love affair which rocks the throne of Spain at a time when one misstep spells disaster. Rich in dramatic scenes and colorful dialogue, the piece is one of the greatest of Victor Hugo's stage masterpieces.

Admission will be 25 cents. Tickets may be secured from any of the following: Virginia Thomson, Louis Ray, Ruth Desmond, or Howard Brubeck.

News Frat Holds Party

Possible pledges will be discussed and voted upon at the next Alpha Phi Gamma business meeting scheduled for Friday, April 12, at noon in the Publications Office. The members are requested to be prompt and to bring luncheons. The meeting will last the full noon hour, according to President Gail Andrews. Several names already considered will be discussed and new names may be brought up for consideration.

Gil Cowan, Alpha Phi Gamma alumnus from Southwestern University, joined the local chapter members last Saturday evening for a social meeting at the home of Clarice Dechent. The meeting was the first since the successful campaign for the establishment of the Alpha Phi Gamma scholarship fund. Cowan, veteran newspaper man and member of the staff of the Los Angeles Examiner, congratulated the chapter on its achievement and prophesied it would add favorably to the laurels of the journalism group at State.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kinnaird, Hazel Griffith, Bill Barker, Harry Marks, Gail Andrews, Elsa Magnus, Eva and Gladys Symon, Cy Atkinson, Frank Schwass, Nagenda Lawrence, Marie Hirsch, Vern Whitney, Kay Buckley, W. J. Smith, Ruth Walker, Jack McDonald, Kent Friel and Cliff Worth were among the members and guests attending the affair.

The next evening meeting will be at the home of Harry Marks. At this time election of officers for next year will be held.

Dogs Parade in Class

Four pets of the faculty members of the college came to Frederic Burk school recently. They were Miss Alcutt's pekingese, Miss Anderson's terrier, Miss Cundiff's scottie, and Mr. Farmer's chow. They attended class in Room 105 and helped the instructors put over their project with the third grade class.

As the dogs paraded, their characteristics were studied and the country from which they came was also studied. Other dogs that will be studied are the Mexican chihauhua, wire-haired terrier, and the Boston bull.

GATER BALL TEAM VS. SAN JOSE STATE

Gater Sports

PURPLE TRACKSTERS ENGAGE SPARTANS

WITH WHIT

By VERNON WHITNEY

Well, the Wildcat clawed the Gater again. This time it was on the cinder path, and the fellows from Chico State walloped the Purple and Gold spikesters by the overwhelming score of 82 to 49. The Butte County boys certainly are a nemesis to the San Francisco State teams. Whether it be on the gridiron, the basketball court, or the cinders, the Wildcats always seem to be able to beat the Gaters. Too bad that we don't meet them in baseball, for Coach Hal Harden has a nine that is capable of furnishing opposition to almost any college team.

The tennis match with the Stanford junior varsity was called off on account of the rainstorm, and the baseball game with the University of San Francisco was postponed for the same reason. The Gater nine wanted to play the game last Saturday, even though a slight drizzle was falling, but the Dons didn't want to get wet, and so the boys went home. It also takes two to make a ball game as well as a fight.

Bufford "Biff" Shreve, veteran State distance runner, ran a bang-up second to George Stade in the two mile as the flying Wildcat broke the track record for the event with a sterling 10:28 eight laps. It was Shreve's first appearance of the season, and the game little Gater hung on like a Trojan, but the long stride of his six-foot rival was too much for him, and he was forced to bow his head in defeat. However, Shreve's performance augurs well for his chances in the San Jose meet Saturday.

Owen Jones broke the track record for the discus throw, heaving the Greek platter 140 feet 7 inches to outdistance the field by over thirteen feet. Jones' toss cracked the old record by more than five feet.

Bob Robinson showed the way to the 440 men in the most exciting race of the day. Bob came from nowhere to capture the event, winning out in the last few strides. The time was 53:4, good for the rain-soaked track.

Maliciously and depravedly yours,
Your swash-buckling liar,
Vernon Whitney,
Alias "The Pharisee."

HERE'S HOW

By HOWARD DEMEKE

The trip to Chico was a lucrative one for the Gater tracksters in several ways. Even tho' we didn't bring back a victory, the Chico lads and lassies will long remember our valiant efforts and, I'll wager, respect all future Purple and gold cinder teams.

Coach Cox wouldn't permit the squad to remain in Chico for the dance last Saturday, despite the tearful pleas of his men. But he did feed the lads amply, I'll allow. Those country ham and eggs were deeeeelicious and plentiful.

They say, up there, that Chico's athletic director, Art Acker, is eccentric, but your writer wishes to interpret his antics as decidedly unsportsmanlike. Mr. Acker, in announcing the various events on the track program, repeatedly made remarks that were anything but bouquets for the Gaters. If these were Señor Acker's usual greetings, he should be a politician, not a leader in the realm of sport. Are you there, H. L. Mencken?

Your writer thinks that Mike Driscoll will come into his own next Saturday, when Coach Cox enters him in the two-mile run against San Jose. "Dris" has plenty of class, but he looms as a better bet in the sixteen furlongs than he is in the mile, where he is forced to play second fiddle to "Ramblin' Red" Kuder. Good luck, fellow.

BILL O'BRIEN WINS PACIFIC COAST FENCING CHAMPIONSHIP

Gater Foil Artist Takes Saber Title at Berkeley

Bill O'Brien, sandy-haired exponent of the rapid rapier, captured the Pacific Coast fencing championship in the novice saber class, in the tournament held Saturday and Sunday at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley. The husky Irishman, a product of Coach Dan Farmer's fencing classes, tied for first place with A. J. Walker of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, but in the run-off defeated the southerner, 5 to 4.

Over a Hundred Entrants

O'Brien won his title in competition with over a hundred chosen fencers from all points on the Pacific Coast, the entrants being determined by various eliminations held during the past month. The United States Navy was represented in the finals by a picked group of foilsmen.

O'Brien Improves

O'Brien, who is also a pupil of the Funke Fencing Academy of San Francisco, showed tremendous improvement in out-pointing the field in the Berkeley championships. He was in front from his opening match on, and only a last-minute finish by Walker prevented the Stater from taking his title in the regular competitions.

Final Exciting

The finals between O'Brien and Walker provided some high class foil work. It was a tough match for the southern swordsman to lose, but O'Brien proved himself to be every inch a champion by his gracious receptance of the victor's award. The defeated Los Angeleno was vociferous in his praise of the sword work of the Gater fencer.

BLOCK "S" BARN DANCE ON NEXT WEDNESDAY EVE

Lettermen's Party to Be Given at Sigmund Stern Grove

Because this is the last possible notice to be published on the Block "S" barn dance, we have to be a little serious, for a change. Not too serious, but quite a change.

Chairman Hal Beseman has arranged to have the grove done up in the regular barn motif. Costumes will be in order, but not absolutely necessary. It is optional whether or not you come dressed. Eats, entertainment (with George Moscone as master of ceremonies), and a good band under direction of Harry Meyn, all for thirty-five cents per head. Outsiders are welcome, as the dance is not closed to Block "S" members.

One of the rules of the Sigmund Stern Grove is that no dances are to be run on a profit basis, as the park is for the enjoyment of the citizenry of San Francisco. Therefore, tickets must be purchased from the members of the committee at school. No tickets can be sold at the gate Wednesday night. Ann Rasmussen, Joanne and Virginia Conlan, Beverly Lyon, Pauline Quirk, and Dorothy Tuttich are the official dispensers of the bids.

Sid Traeger came up to the writer after last week's publication and said that he has enough money to get a new auto radio. Glad to hear that someone is making something out of this. Bob Marcus slipped up on his cut, but is doing fine with the poster business. We haven't heard from Ralph Nathan or Mel Nickerson yet. I remain yours truly, Rudolph C. Rudd.

Gater Baseball Team Engages San Jose State

Purple and Gold Invades Garden City For Clash With Spartans

The long-awaited test between the baseball teams of San Francisco State and San Jose State colleges will come to pass Saturday, when the Gaters and Spartans mix things up in San Jose.

Coach Hal Harden's boys are just aching for a chance at the Garden city boys. The postponement of the clash has only whetted their appetites. Last season the Purple and Gold nine lost a couple of heart-breakers to the boys from Lynchburg, by scores of 3 to 1, eleven innings, and 5 to 4. Coach Harden has practically a veteran team this year, and the boys are just frothing at the mouth for another chance at the Spartans.

Comparative Scores

Comparative scores are worth about as much as cocoanuts in the Cook Islands, but nevertheless they furnish some basis of judgment, so here goes. San Francisco made U. S. F. look like a bunch of bushers, walloping them 9 to 1, in a game that was about as close as a millionaire spendthrift on a spree. On the other hand, the best that San Jose could do against the Dons was to break even, winning the first encounter, 10 to 7, and losing the second, 7 to 5. Using these settos with the Hilltoppers as a criteria, the Gaters look like gilt-edged cinches.

California Whips Both Teams

But there are other returns to be considered. The University of California made the Purple and Gold outfit look futile, indeed, when they white-washed them 5 to 0. San Jose made a better showing, losing a tough 4 to 2 struggle to the Bears. However, Joe Gallison, the ace of Clint Evans' staff, who let the Gaters down with four hits, only twirled the opening three innings against San Jose, and made the Spartans look even more impotent, holding them without either a hit or a run for the three cantos.

Strongest Gater Nine in History

Coach Hal Harden has developed the strongest baseball team in the history of San Francisco State College. The boys have captured eleven games so far this season, while losing only three. St. Mary's, California, and the St. Elizabeth's C. Y. O. nine were the only teams to humble the Gaters.

Bob Marcus Talks

As an example of the frame of mind in which the Purple and Gold team approaches the contest, we offer the following from Bob Marcus, star outfielder, who has faced the Spartans for the past two seasons: "After this Saturday's game, San Jose will be happy if they can say that we beat them by only two or three runs, although we expect to beat them by more. Their streak of luck, if there is such a thing as luck, cannot continue forever. We'll see Saturday. After all, they're only human."

Team-mates Echo Marcus

And the rest of Coach Harden's nine echo the sentiment. They feel that there was just a little bit of bologna behind those Spartan wins last year. They will be out there this Saturday to prove that they are the better team. The breaks can't go one way forever.

Milton Holt? Who Is He?

Have you ever heard of Milton Holt, you follower of athletes and athletics?

It's dollars to doughnuts that you haven't, and yet all that this Holt fellow has done is breast the tape ahead of George Anderson, Cal's famous sprinter, five times while they were both in high school!

How fickle is fame!

Holt runs for Fresno State now, and in their recent interclass meet, he ran the hundred in ten flat with his sweat clothes on! Holt everything from now on, folks.

State-U. S. F. Baseball Game Postponed

The State-U. S. F. baseball game, scheduled for Saturday morning, was postponed on account of inclement weather. The teams will probably meet later in the season.

Chico Track Team Takes State, 82-49

Three Track, Eight Meet Records Broken on Rain-soaked Field

By HOWARD DEMEKE

The Gater track team journeyed to Chico over the week-end and returned without a victory, but not without honors. The duel ended with Chico on the coveted end of the 82-49 score, and three track records broken. The meet was held under poor conditions, but eight meet records were shattered and one was tied. State took six first places as against nine for the enemy. Runar Stone was high-point winner with thirteen markers to his credit.

Owen Jones Sets New Record

Owen Jones was the only Gater who created a new track record. His mighty heave of 140 feet 7 inches in the discus event was sufficient to shave more than five feet from the old mark. Sherrod of Chico threw the javelin 182.7 feet to surpass the previous record of 178.9 feet. In the other super-performance, Chico's galloping freshman, George Stade, clipped 12 seconds from the record of 10.28 in the two mile run which was held by his team-mate, Manley. Stade's time was 10.16, a commendable effort, considering the conditions.

"Hank" Henry Double Winner

Clarence Henry, the Wildcat's speed demon, cashed in handily in both the dash events. Henry covered the century in 9.9, and negotiated the 220 in the fast time of 21.9. Jack Murphy of State copped second honors in both events. Bobby Robinson gave the spectators a thrill with a Garrison finish in winning the 440 for the Purple and Gold. Bob led the pack for the first furlong, but dropped back on the far turn, apparently outclassed. Then, when the situation looked dark for the Gaters, Bobbie cut loose with a magnificent burst of speed to eke out a hair-raising victory in the stretch.

"Red" Kuder Wins Mile

Schneider bested "Red" Kuder in the 880, but he had to set a new meet record to do it. The German completed the four furlongs in 2:01.8. Kuder, however, was superb in winning the mile run. He also lowered the old mark in his pet event when he jogged the four laps in 4:36, his best time this season. In the high hurdles, Lou Morrison grabbed customary first honors. Lou's time, 15.4, is a new meet record, but not a true indication of his ability. Many spectators agreed that his time would have been around 15 flat if he had not had the misfortune of kicking a hurdle. "Ru" Stone could no no better than fourth in the race, having been forced to enter the event immediately following his winning leap in the high jump.

Stone Wins on Last Try

Stone gave the Gater followers a scare in the broad jump when he barely managed to qualify after fouling twice. Even then, the "Ruins" could not find his form and could not do in excess of 20 feet prior to his last jump, when he leaped 21 feet 6¾ inches to best Sullivan and Haynes of Chico. The Red and White broad jumpers took the defeat hard as both had been doing a consistent 21 feet throughout the trials.

The summary:

100 yard dash—1st, Henry (C); 2nd, Murphy (S); 3rd, Haynes (C). Time, 9.9.

220 yard dash—1st Henry (C); 2nd, Murphy (S); 3rd, Lambrecht (C). Time, 21.9.

440 yard dash—1st, Robinson (S); 2nd, Campbell (C); 3rd, Chesney (C). Time, 53.4.

Men's Club Boxing Tournament Opens Wednesday, Apr. 24

Eddie Saadallah, chairman of the Men's Club boxing tournament, announces that the matches will begin Wednesday, April 24, at noon, in the college gymnasium. Awards will be given to the winners in the various divisions.

There are eight entrants in the light-heavyweight class. Bill Dasmann meets James Hamrock; Al Greenberg takes on Felix Grosso; Ralph Nathan trades punches with Jim Kilkenny; and Bob Marcus engages George Powles.

Herb Vecki and Dick Hurst provide the feature attraction of the day, when they tangle in the heavyweight division. The winner will meet Hal Beseman for the tollege championship.

Ronnie English and Al Cartwright tangle in the welterweight class.

Kenny Wilkes, who claims the 130 pound wrestling championship of the college, will meet an unnamed opponent.

In an exceptionally thrilling meet the "Wandering Raiders" of Golden Gate Junior College won the Northern California intercollegiate swimming championship at the San Jose State pool last Saturday, with Stanford taking second place.

The San Francisco boys took eight first places and accumulated 63 points, the most ever scored in the intercollegiate championship meets.

Team scores were: Golden Gate 63, Stanford 47, San Jose State 31, Menlo J. C. 5, Fresno State 3.

* * *

Track at Marin Junior College spells tough luck this year. Their team is actually a one-man affair in the form of Harold Nutting, former Tamalpais High star, who scored 17 of Marin's 19 total count against State. Nutting is a dash man, a jumper and a pole vaulter.

* * *

Following a school-naming contest, the students of what has been known as Columbia University changed the name of their institute to the University of Portland last week. They also dropped the nickname "Irish" in preference to "Pilots."

* * *

Without letting their defeat by U. S. C. discourage them, the California track men are seriously preparing to capture their next two meets. They engage Michigan next Saturday and the Stanford Indians the following week. Predictions tend to give the Bears an edge over the Automobile State men as well as over the Cardinals. But who knows?

W. A. A. Intramural Basketball Tourney In Final Rounds

Epsilon Mu's Tangle With Novices Today at 4 to End Play

By SHIRLEY SENK

On Wednesday, April 10, the Epsilon Mu basketball team will tangle with the Novices at 4:10 p. m. in the women's gymnasium. This will be the final game in the intramural tournament. To date, the winning teams from the first division are the Studges, Advisory Council, and Epsilon Mu. In the second division, the Ramblers, Tri W's, and the Deltas are ahead.

Play-offs Soon

Upon the completion of the tournament there will be a play-off series between the winning teams of each division. They will then play to determine the team that will represent State in the intercollegiate tournament. A schedule of play-off games has not yet been arranged, but will be posted sometime this week on the bulletin board in the gym. It is important that team captains have a sufficient number of players ready to play on schedule as this is the final series.

Studges Wallop Advisory Council

On Monday the Studges of the P. E. 40 class defeated the Advisory Council team by a score of 23 to 13. The teams were evenly matched, but in the final few minutes of play the Studges plunged ahead to victory.

Harry "Faces" Post Has a Rival

Harry Post, State's "Man of Forty Faces," has a rival. The star Gater athlete, who outdoes Charley Chaplin in pantomime on the basketball court, will have to look to his laurels, 'cause Reuben is after him.

Who's Reuben? Why, none other than Robert Reuben Marcus, the star slugger of the State baseball team. When Bob hits 'em they go, and when they hit Bob he goes. To drop the sign language and talk English, it seems that this Bob Marcus has a habit of getting hit by pitched balls when he is up there at bat. Now, there are pleasanter things to do than get hit by pitched balls, but nevertheless, about once a game, Bob takes one in the slats.

Here is where Post and his faces come in. The fellows on the ball club will lay two to one that Bob can grimace far more effectively than Harry. If you would have seen him go down to the ground on his nose when "Porky" Sheridan, the St. Elizabeth's twirler, conked him in the back a couple of weeks ago, you'd agree that Post is only a has-been when it comes to equalling the Thespian antics of the Gater outfielder. "He moaned, and he groaned, then he smiled and went wild." There was more expression on Bob's homely pan than in "One Per Cent" Regan's voice when he's begging the scorer for a basehit. And, that's just about the acme of histrionics. How about it, boys?

STATE TRACK TEAM TRAVELS TO THE PRUNE CITY TO TAKE ON SPARTAN CINDER PERFORMERS

Coach Cox's Band Out to Come Back After Chico Defeat; Entire Gater Squad Is in A-1 Shape

By HOWARD DEMEKE

Next Saturday afternoon, the Gater tracksters will journey southward for the purpose of meeting the San Jose State Spartans in a cinder duel. Very little information is available concerning the merits of the enemy aggregation, but Coach Bill Hubbard's outfit has been unsuccessful in its only two contests thus far this season.

State Ball Team Meets San Mateo

Gaters Play Peninsula J. C. at San Mateo Today

Coach Hal Harden's Gater baseball team meets San Mateo Junior College today at 3 p. m. in the State League Baseball Park at San Mateo. State is rarin' to go after their enforced idleness of the past week, which was caused by the rains.

Split Last Season

The Purple and Gold nine split with the Bulldogs last season, winning the first game, 3 to 2, and losing the second one, 9 to 4.

The State nine is in perfect shape, and the boys are anxious to prove to the college that they can come back after that St. Elizabeth's nightmare and play some real baseball.

Gater Line-up

Revenge for Track Team

Also, there is the little matter of the State-San Mateo track meet to be revenged. The fellows on Coach Harden's baseball team would like to even up scores for their brothers on the Gater track team if possible.

The only comparative score available gives the State nine a tremendous edge in the contest. The Gaters had quite an easy time in defeating Mission High 6 to 3, George Moscone and Vern Whitney limiting them to four hits, while the Mission boys walloped the daylights out of the Bulldogs, trouncing them 15 to 1, and collecting twenty-three hits in the process!

State batting order:

1. Bell, c.
2. Lee, 2b.
3. Regan, ss.
4. Wilkes, 3b.
5. Marcus, rf.
6. Nickerson, cf.
7. Purcell, lf.
8. Bogdanoff, 1b.
9. Whitney, p.

Presenting for your approval, Darryl Hopkins, mighty mass of muscle, high-jumper of the upper crust, and a dark and handsome man of the great outdoors. "Hoppie" hails from our own San Francisco, having graduated from Lowell High.

Despite the fact that he has worlds of natural ability as an all-around trackster, this handsome freshman had never before competed in any cinder meet until he came to State. Coach Cox caught a glimpse of his graceful cavorting, at the outset of the current track campaign, so now the object of feminine affections is a regular point-gainer for the Purple and Gold spikesters.

"Hoppie's" habits are consistent with his looks. He's a he-man who indulges in a man's pleasures, when he plays. Hunting and fishing are the favorite pastimes of this modern Daniel Boone, and he allows he gets his buck (deer to you) every season, in addition to his share of rainbow trout.

Darryl has gathered points in every meet, except one, this year. His latest contribution was a tie for second honors in the high jump in the duel with the strong Chico outfit last Saturday. In this meet, the leapin' frosh got over five feet ten inches. However, he has done six feet in practice.

San Jose lost to San Mateo J. C. in its opening meet, and dropped a lop-sided 82 to 48 decision to the University of San Francisco last Saturday. The Spartans managed to win only two events in bowing to the Dons.

Stan Kuder Has Opposition

In digging around the files, I find a few records which are enlightening, if discouraging. The book says that Bud Everett and Glenn Harper are going to give Red Kuder a real battle in both the 880 and mile. Everett jogs the four furlongs in 2:05 and the four laps in 4:43. Harper's 4:48 mile is a little less dangerous, but his 2:03 eight-eighty must not be regarded too lightly.

Owen Jones to Get Battle

Owen Jones, State's record-smashing discus thrower, should have plenty of competition when he meets Jordan McPhetres in his pet event. The San Jose boy has been tossing the platter beyond 135 feet consistently. Owen showed a late season burst of form last week in Chico when he cut loose with a heave of 140 feet 7 inches. Little Kenny Wilkes will have to exceed his best time in history if he would break the tape in front of Carl Cammack of the opponent's camp. Cammack negotiates the 220 steeplechase to the tune of about 24.5, or more than a second faster than the "mighty atom's" speediest show this season.

Gater High Hurdlers Picked

A chap by the name of Harry Murphy will represent the Irish as well as the Spartans in the high hurdles. Although no records are on hand from which we might learn of Mr. Murphy's abilities, I think it is safe to say that "Larruping Lou" Morrison and Ru Stone will have the situation well under control, barring unforseen misfortune. Runar will have a sorry plight when the call for the broad jump is sounded, if the books do not lie. One Dee Sheltania of the Gaters' hosts is reputed to be one of the few gentlemen on the Pacific Coast who are capable of leaping further than 24 feet without touching the sand. Perhaps Herr Sheltania will provide the necessary opposition to bring forth the "Ruins'" long anticipated record-breaking jump. However, Stone cannot hope for first honors if his rival is in form.

Captain Carl Robinson Sprint Hope

Captain Carl Robinson is San Jose's best bet in the sprints. Robinson has been of secondary importance in past campaigns, but is tops in the dash events at present. In spite of his vast experience the Spartan captain will have a tough assignment when he crosses spikes with Jack Murphy. Coach Hubbard is exhibiting a quantity of gray hair which may be attributed to a lack of quarter milers on his present varsity. The only man expected to give Bobby Robinson any cause for worry is Paul Gerhart, a freshman who scintillated in the frosh meets last year.

200 Foot Javelin Thrower

The fans who attend the meet Saturday will probably witness a flashy performance in the javelin throw. Frank Cunningham is the one-man-show who will provide the entertainment if he uncorks one of his 200-foot plus tosses, as he is wont to do. Stone, here again, will be asked to be satisfied with second place honors.

Gaters Picked to Win

All things considered, San Jose has a fighting, but ill-balanced squad. If the weather takes a turn for the better and the track oval is not a quagmire, it is mine humble prediction that the Gaters will take the Spartans by a slight margin. But they will take them.

WHITNEY QUITS!

Vern Whitney, sports editor of the Golden Gater, resigned his position yesterday. The resignation will take effect immediately.

The firebrand of the Gater staff offered the following reason for his action: "Being sports editor of the college paper entails at leâsts twenty-five hours of work a week, which of course knocks the h—— out of your school work. In addition, I have been getting home at two, three, and sometimes four o'clock in the morning on both Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Needless to say, this is not conducive either to physical well-being or college work."

WHY "STATE"?

WHY change the Teachers' Colleges to State Colleges? Despite the opposition of the University of California, there seem to be many justifiable reasons why this step should be taken. The main reason for changing Teachers' Colleges to State Colleges is that it will increase the possibility for all to get higher education.

Let us point out how this change would be a benefit: There are many deserving students who graduate from high schools and do not have enough money to attend an expensive university which is a long way from home, now these students may not wish to attend a college, which although in their vicinity, is primarily a Teachers' College, but if these Teachers' Colleges became State Colleges many hundreds of young people who do not attend any college would go and obtain a college education.

The State University, believed by many to be too large, would not be particularly affected. The increased attendance at the State Colleges, while it might make the University jealous, would not be taken away from the student body of the University, but would come from a source which at present does not attend institutions of higher learning.

The additional cost would be justified in that education has a great social value. Many young people who are at present idle and susceptible to the temptations of crime, could and should be getting an education.

In view of these facts it is only logical to conclude that the State Teachers' Colleges should be changed to State Colleges.

TO BE OR NOT . . . ?

Dan C. Baker

State is one of the few remaining colleges of its size to maintain a compulsory annual fee. When the State annual was begun, it was highly necessary to set up some means of guaranteeing its financial success. That time has passed. The success of a San Francisco State annual is no longer a question. The editor feels that a more democratic method of raising funds should be established which will, in the long run, mean a more thorough and representative year-book of the college's ambitions. To those of you who would say that the editor is overlooking the manner in which funds for this annual were raised, he helped circulate petitions for abolishing the compulsory fee. In other words, while the editor has been fortunate in having a sum to deal with perhaps larger than the first year's total on a subscription basis might be, he feels that future Franciscans must come from voluntary support to insure their permanency and worth.

Bill Connolly

I think fees should be compulsory. An educational campaign should be undertaken to acquaint the student body with the real facts of the question. After such a campaign, we could settle it by a student body vote. The students must realize what it means to the college to have an annual.

Mr. King

I think the compulsory annual fee is a fine thing. The student body of a college should be proud enough of the activities during the year to keep a pictorial record of them. It is the best method of developing a college spirit so necessary at this college.

Ed Morgan

Fees should not be be compulsory. As the annual is really an extra-curricular activity it should not be included with general fees. The question of buying it should be left up to the individual. If he has the right school spirit he will want one. It could be handled as in other colleges—have a sign-up at the beginning of the semester, and print that many annuals.

Bob Van Houte

Annual fees should not be compulsory for two reasons: First, students who cannot afford the price of the annual should not be compelled to buy one. Secondly, if the annual is of high caliber most students will buy one anyway, without being compelled to do so. Now, either the annual is not worth three dollars and should not be purchased, or else it is worth three dollars and would be purchased, whether compulsory or not.

Mrs. Witt-Diamant

The annual is good. If students' wants could be worked out by installing a system whereby no large amount is given out at one time and an installment system was in use, it would be of more benefit than the present compulsory idea. There is no reason why the annual would suffer. Fees should certainly be voluntary.

Max Vineys

I believe that although a much better annual can probably be put out if the distribution is kept to one hundred per cent by compulsory methods, we must think of the separate individuals that comprise the sum total of one hundred per cent.

LIFTING THE LID

THE KING'S ENGLISH

Dear Lid Lifter:

For the benefit of the feminine portion of the Student Body, would it be possible for the writers of the sport page to express their news in English. This sport parlance is all right for the more earnest devotees of the sport, but for the general spectator, one might as well read Gertrude Stein. Could the Gater get out an edition entirely devoted to a glossary of the peculiar terms used? We might then know whether the teams have won or lost. —R. M. H.

* * *

MORE RALLIES

Dear Lid Lifter:

It appears to me that the spirit here is in a state of dormancy. Why can't we have more rallies in the women's gym to foster that old school spirit? —Interested.

* * *

BLACKBOARDS

Dear Lid Lifter:

The workmen have quit work on the new annexes and yet there are no adequate blackboards in the rooms. The students of music have to get along with a small two by four board which is entirely too small for practical use. —B. D.

* * *

WE WANT AIR

Dear Lid Lifter:

Can something be done about the ventilation in the library without sending a Florida hurricane sweeping across the backs of half the students trying to study there? At present it is practically impossible to study very long without dozing off due to the stale air and excessive heat in the room.

—Drowsy.

MUSICAL NOTES

BY CAHN

State's second annual Spring Music Festival begins tomorrow night with a performance of the A Capella Choir and the String Quartet.

The Choir has been chosen to open this brilliant spectacle and tonight they will end a long siege of rehearsing. A packed house is assured.

♭ ♮ ♯

Jerry Kenny is still working hard for State. He secured Bob Bolton's Franciscans to play for the Inaugural Ball. This popular orchestra has played for many of State's big affairs and has a large following.

♭ ♮ ♯

Joel Wright is conducting the orchestra at the Golden Gate this week. . . . A popular music student here, Joe left State to make a comeback in the orchestra business. . . . He is doing it via the radio and stage. . . . Appreciation is always found away from the home grounds. . . . Dick Jurgen's orchestra, which is creating a mild sensation in L. A. . . . Al Terando, now winding up his State career, formerly tromboned for Jurgens. . . . Folks in the music building have unanimously voted Joe Rosen "King of Parallel Octaves." They add that the title is an earned one. . . . State will be a lot worse off when Nick Biedov leaves us this semester. . . . As chairman of the Spring Music Festival, he's working over-time nightly. . . . All Staters are welcome to the Epsilon Mu recital this Friday which features Warren Green, Hardie Robinson and Marguerite Phillips. . . . The best song in "Roberta" is heard but once in the picture . . . called "Yesterdays" . . . Lisbeth Hughes will sing it soon at the Golden Gate. . . . Admission to Spring Music Festival concerts is not open only to music students. . . . All Staters are invited and most welcome. . . . The admission is really free. . . . Jimmy Davis is out of Edgewater. . . . But he is associated with Tom Gerun in the coming GMC Auto Show. . . . How's about Jimmy's band for the senior ball? . . . Dear Hart: I don't sit up all night thinking of those bum gags. . . . I steal them from mugs like you.

When is this radio amateur racket going to end?

Amateur programs are a lot of fun to some people. . . . but not to discriminating listeners. . . . They're a big bore to most people who have gotten over their first laugh at the suffering "embryonic radio stars."

Racket? Sure! Instead of paying salary demands of the experienced professionals, sponsors slash expenses by slapping the amateurs on the back. The monotones don't even have their transportation paid.

♭ ♮ ♯

They say that:

If students had to eat some of the music played in the practice rooms. . . . they'd get ptomaine!

BAKER'S OVEN

BY DAN BAKER

OH HARRY!

Last week we read in Harry Marks' column that "things look dark for next year's Franciscan." He adds that he hopes that "before the annual is dropped its value to the college will be carefully considered." Mr. Marks, as an ex-editor, has every right to fear for the fortune of the annual.

This year's editor (who is also the writer of this column) feels, just as keenly, concern for the future yearbook. But he also knows that with the setting up of the financial structure of the Franciscan as the sum total of VOLUNTARY student enterprise and subscription, these future yearbooks will be far greater successes. They will be greater successes because they will express 100 per cent the extent of student body interest. And, sorry to say, you could never say that of any produced to date, this year's included.

SIZE

And there is no cause for alarm as to the necessity of a compulsory fee to make possible an annual as inclusive and as large as the last few annuals have been. Rather there is cause to point out that under an optional fee system, greater opportunities will be presented for the expression of business ability on the part of the student staffs of these future books. They will have to plan campaigns, secure advertising, collect assessments from logical assessable groups—in short, produce their annual in the same manner in which it is produced at about 97 per cent of the colleges and universities of the country. Anything alarming about that?

* * *

PURPOSE

The primary purpose of this year's annual is, of course, to picture the whole year at State; the secondary purpose, and the important one to future Franciscans, is to show just how much can be done with a certain amount of money to produce a superior publication, from the point of typography and engraving, when each expended dollar is stretched as far as the business perspicacity of the staff and sponsors will allow.

So, in a short while, the editor will present to you what he feels to be the finest and best Franciscan to date. (He knows there will be better ones—but not before next year.)

LET'S SHARE IT!!

—Hooper and Locke.

EDUCATION VS. PUBLICITY

Already possessed of all the advantages of modern education our "big brother Cal," his appetite whetted by numerous concessions throughout the past years, again is asking for still more donations in order that he may maintain his enviable position of the largest university in the country.

Purely from a point of publicity such requests may be to the good of our Golden State, but when the granting of them will in effect limit appropriations to State Teachers Colleges and consequently lower the general average of our higher education, we may well wonder which should come first.

Are our legislators interested in education or in the maintenance of California's ranking tourist attraction?

With bated breath we awaited the decision of our worthy legislators, hoping that education would prove itself. . . . Education was defeated.

Education vs. Publicity. We wonder?

STUDIOUS

(Dug up from a Stanford Chappy.)

I met you during finals week.
The bloom was on the sage.
I dreamed of love and daffodils,
And never turned a page.

I did a lot of learning
Concerning love and life,
But nothing of French history,
Or why kings got the knife.

In learning romance languages
My, how the time did vanish!
I glibly rolled it off my tongue,
Alas! but not in Spanish!

I plumbed your azure gaze to find
The answer to life's Why,
And didn't give a darn about the structure of the eye.

The quarter's gone, and so are you,
You bad, black, ace of spades!
I sit at home and contemplate
My gawdam lousy grades.

WE ARE REALLY not in such a bad way. A week ago, the "California Aggie" received a lid-lifter demanding that the pepper trees (which were probably planted when Heck was a pup . . . and a swear word . . .) be removed from the campus quad. The S. E. R. A. brains are looking for people like this. * * * LECTURE THOTS . . . Student: Gosh, how sleepy I am. Why did I get up this morning? Prof: Gosh, how sleepy I am. Why did I get up this morning? Student: Come on, put down those notes, and get going. Prof: Come on, you dopes, quiet down and let's get going. Student: I suppose he'll hand out the same line this morning. Prof: Might as well give 'em the same tripe . . . they won't know the difference. Student: Well, I might as well laugh . . I'll bet I heard that one when I was three. Prof: All right, sucker, go ahead and laugh . . . I'm ashamed to tell it. If I only could spring some I know. Student: Lordy, this is boring. Prof: Lordie, this is boring. And I've lost my place in my notes again. Guess I'll have to ad lib. Student: Hot dog! The bell. Prof: Hot dog! The bell.

HER LIPS QUIVERED as they approached mine. My whole frame trembled as I looked into her eyes. Her body shook with intensity as our lips met. My chin vibrated. My body shuddered as I held her to me. Man, how that Ford did rattle! . . .

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

It was a matter of pride with a host in Colonial days that his guests should smoke tobacco grown on his own plantation.

Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina—

"Have a cigarette"

TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another.

They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes:

"I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used."

Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Have a Chesterfield—

For one thing—they're milder.
For another thing—they taste better.

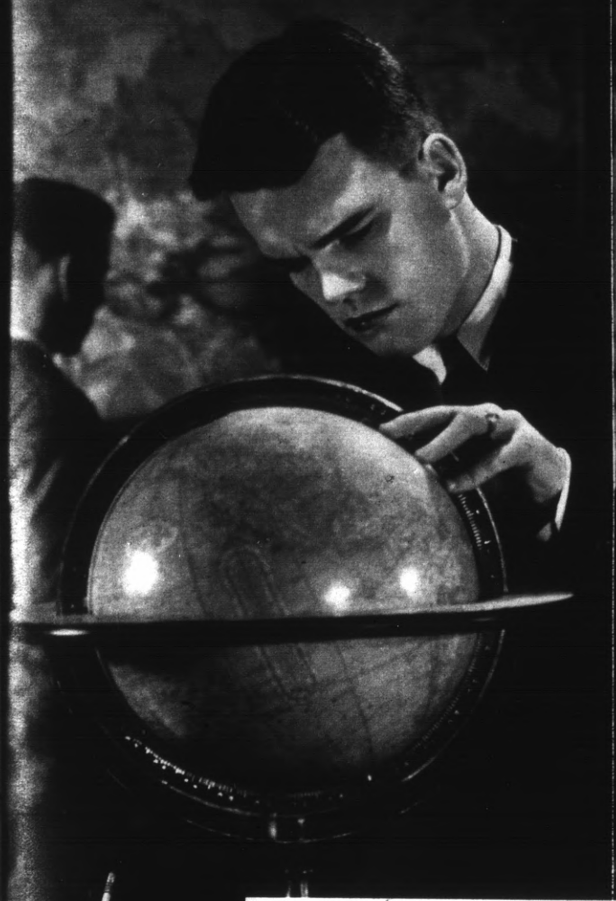
AFTER A HARD SESSION..



GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

"I'M A NEWSPAPER WOMAN. It's absorbing work—but I have to put in long, irregular hours. When I'm feeling let down, I smoke a Camel to restore my energy and interest. Camels are a smoother smoke, too. They do taste better." (Signed) MARGARET E. NICHOLS

"I'M NOT ONE of those 'natural born students' you hear about," says Capers Smith. "I have to buckle down and study to get results. When I'm not hitting the books, I work in the college bookstore from 12 to 4 every day. It's easy to see how full my time is! When I feel tired or 'logy,' I know that I'm nearing the end of my energy. Then I always smoke a Camel. It revives me—restores my energy. And each Camel that follows seems to be even more chock-full of that mellow, rich flavor! I smoke Camels steadily. They never tire my taste. And Camels never make my nerves jumpy." (Signed) CAPERS SMITH, '36

"IT'S A HARD, ACTIVE life—bridging the Golden Gate with the longest single span ever built. When I'm worn out, I light up a Camel. It quickly relieves me of tiredness. I smoke steadily—have for years. Camels never upset my nerves." (Signed) R. G. CONE, Engineer

CAMEL'S TOBACCOS COST MILLIONS MORE!

"Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS — Turkish and Domestic — than any other popular brand."

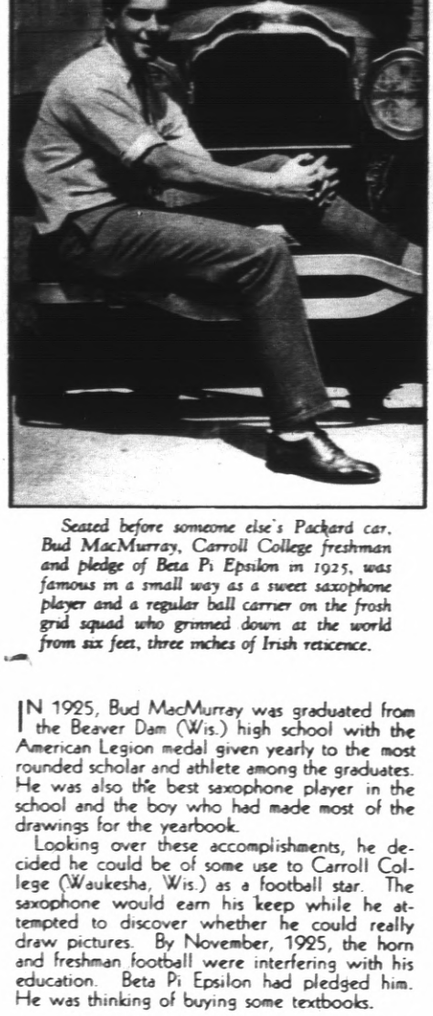
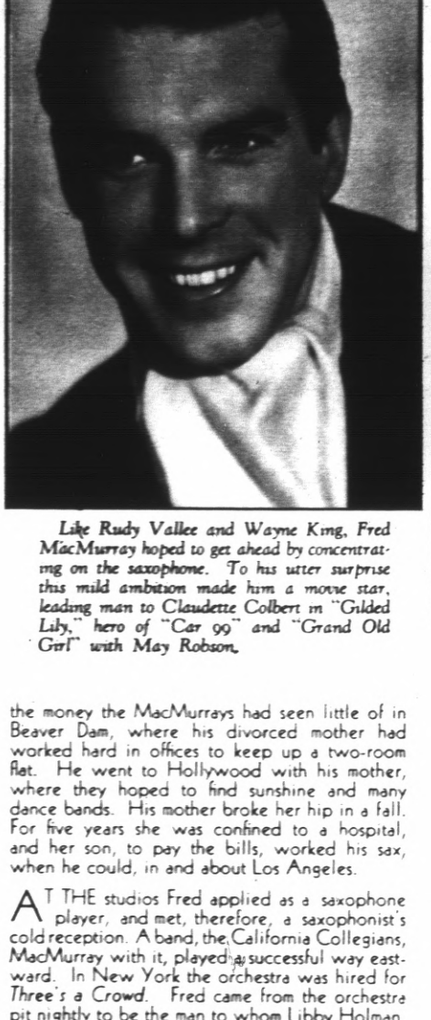
The SPOTLIGHTER . . .

From Campus to Camera



Seated before someone else's Packard car, Bud MacMurray, Carroll College freshman and pledge of Beta Pi Epsilon in 1925, was famous in a small way as a sweet saxophone player and a regular ball carrier on the frosh grid squad who grinned down at the world from six feet, three inches of Irish reticence.



Like Rudy Vallee and Wayne King, Fred MacMurray hoped to get ahead by concentrating on the saxophone. To his utter surprise this mild ambition made him a movie star, leading man to Claudette Colbert in "Gilded Lily," hero of "Car 99" and "Grand Old Girl" with May Robson.

IN 1925, Bud MacMurray was graduated from the Beaver Dam (Wis.) high school with the American Legion medal given yearly to the most rounded scholar and athlete among the graduates. He was also the best saxophone player in the school and the boy who had made most of the drawings for the yearbook.

Looking over these accomplishments, he decided he could be of some use to Carroll College (Waukesha, Wis.) as a football star. The saxophone would earn his keep while he attempted to discover whether he could really draw pictures. By November, 1925, the horn and freshman football were interfering with his education. Beta Pi Epsilon had pledged him. He was thinking of buying some textbooks.

ON FRIDAY and Saturday nights he played in dance pavilions with an orchestra called Joy's Gloom Chasers. Carroll College had a dramatics club from which Alfred Lunt, the noted Broadway actor, had graduated. To Fred MacMurray this was an unexciting fact; he had decided against acting when he failed to make the cast of his high school class play.

In June 1926, Fred gave up Carroll College and art to be a musician, an occupation promising the money the MacMurrays had seen little of in Beaver Dam, where his divorced mother had worked hard in offices to keep up a two-room flat. He went to Hollywood with his mother, where they hoped to find sunshine and many dance bands. His mother broke her hip in a fall. For five years she was confined to a hospital, and her son, to pay the bills, worked his sax, when he could, in and about Los Angeles.

AT THE studios Fred applied as a saxophone player, and met, therefore, a saxophonist's cold reception. A band, the California Collegians, MacMurray with it, played a successful way eastward. In New York the orchestra was hired for Three's a Crowd. Fred came from the orchestra pit nightly to be the man to whom Libby Holman, the star, sang her flaming torch, Body and Soul.

In Roberta, Fred had some lines and a song on the stage. A Paramount scout saw him and brought him home to Hollywood—from Libby Holman to Claudette Colbert and a seven-year contract.

These were swift and strange happenings to Bud MacMurray who had given no second thought to being an actor as long as he could still play the saxophone.
